

La La Land

Tell me why I can't dream
With my eyes wide open
Tell me why I can't believe
In all you cannot see

People want to tell you
What you can and cannot do
Listening to too many crazies
Will never bring a chance to you

You want to ask your questions
You want to ask why

Well I've got no better answer
But to tell you I wish I could

Find my way to the stage in the big city
Where the lights color my face
Purple and green, kind of like Presley

Even though I know that I am
Way up and over my head
Got a journey to fulfill my dream now
Up and over my head
In the clouds are what I see
Way up and over my head is the only reason to be living
Up and over my head and that's how I want to be

Tell me that I'm crazy
Blame your mistakes on everybody else, but yourself
Promise me the whole wide world
Until I snap, then nobody wins in the end

Mr. Man, Mr. Man, Mr. Know-it-all
Boss, he's always right another monologue
Lecture, and lecture another one
Get me a drink oh please
Don't get it wrong, make it strong
If you can please
I can't stand to be here already
Got no better answer
But to tell you I wish I could

Find my way to the stage in the big city
Where the lights color my face

Purple and green, kind of like Johnny

Even though I know that I am
Way up and over my head
Got a journey to fulfill my dream now
Up and over my head
In the clouds are what I see
Way up and over my head is the only reason to be living
Up and over my head and that's how I want to be

La la, la la land
La la, la la land

La la, la la land
La la, am I in la la land?